

BRYCE CARNINE MEMORIAL PRIZE IN ONCOLOGY

One $3,450 prize has been endowed by Grant and Beryl Carnine to honour their son, Bryce Carnine. The prize is awarded to an undergraduate or graduate student in the Faculty of Health and Social Development (FHSD; Schools of Nursing, Social Work and Health & Exercise Sciences; IGS Individualized or Themes with a primary supervisor in FHSD) at The University of British Columbia Okanagan who has conducted a research project or special initiative related in Oncology as it relates to the prevention and/or cure of cancer, or its relation to improving quality of life to cancer patients. Scholastic achievements of candidates are also considered. The award is made on the recommendation of FHSD to Enrolment Services.

Eligibility: All currently registered students in FHSD: Canadian, Permanent Residents, and International students are eligible for this prize.

Deadline: April 27, 2023 at 11:59 PM PST

Value: $3,450

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

To apply for this prize students are requested to provide (1) your CV and (2) a letter (1 page maximum) that includes:

- Award Number: 24301
- Award Name: Bryce Carnine Memorial Prize
- Your name, student number and current program year.
- Corresponding information pertaining to the Bryce Carnine Memorial Prize criteria. For example, a “demonstrated interest” must be accompanied by proof of that interest (volunteer work in that area, letters of reference, publications, presentations, etcetera).

Applications are adjudicated by the FHSD Research & Graduate Training Committee; one nominee from the Faculty will be forwarded to Enrolment Services.
